

BURKEONIS

CREATIVE BLOCK PROTOCOL

*"Patterns don't lie.
People do.
Including you."*

The block isn't a lack of ideas.
It's fear wearing a creative costume.

BEGIN

I

WHAT ACTUALLY HAPPENED?

What actually happened when you tried to make something.

WHAT BECAME “TRUE” IN YOUR HEAD

*before it ever became true in reality?
About your skill. About your taste. About you.*

WHAT EMOTION TOOK CONTROL

before your logic caught up?

Name it.

Not the excuse about time or tools.

IV

FORGET THE NAMES.

*Where have you lived this exact scene before?
Where has this exact stall happened before — different project?*

*The block isn't empty.
It's full — of every version of you that was afraid to be seen.*

WHERE'S THE CONTRADICTION?

Finish these honestly.

I say I want to create _____

Yet I keep _____

Because part of me still believes _____

VI

WHAT IS ACTUALLY MINE?

What's actually yours to change here?

Ownership isn't blame. Ownership is control.

VII

WHAT CHOICE EXISTS NOW?

If nothing changes, exactly like this — what happens next?

What decision still belongs to you — even now?

VIII

TODAY'S DECISION

Not tomorrow. Not eventually. Today.

One unfinished thing you open. One line you make.

THE MIRROR NEVER CHANGES YOU.
YOUR NEXT DECISION DOES.

Date _____

Signature _____

One sentence you'll refuse to break.
